ERIE, Pa., June 28.—Erie paid fitting honor to Paul Siple famous Boy Scout, on his return here today from the "Bottom of the World."

The 19-year-old personal orderly to Rear Admiral Richard Byrd on the 18 months' expedition to the South Pole greeted the huge throngs with his broad boyish smile.

He was acclaimed a hero as he alighted from his train at Union Depot after a trip from New York, where numerous honors had been bestowed upon Rear Admiral Byrd's party.

Paul looked the picture of health as Boy Scouts galore and fellow citizens, including dignitaries and men of all walks of life, surged about him while police reserves were overwhelmed.

PA NEW OBSERVES

No new detours have been established during the week by the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, according to the Detour Bulletin, issued for the week ending July 3, according to the bulletin, 269.52 miles of new roadway have been completed up to June 19, 46.62 miles having been laid during the preceding week, the highest total of the year. The detour map will be found posted in the lobby of The News office.

Rain storms of the past week seem to have been very sectional. While it has been raining hard in one part of the city or county, another section has not been in the storm at all.

With the ever increasing number of accidents being reported in auto traffic, there needs to be added emphasis to safety first on the part of all drivers who are planning to be on roads Sunday.

Civil war veterans are having another reunion today, attending the Battery B event at Mt. Jackson.

One of The News scribes received an invitation from the mayor of Philadelphia, today, to attend a reception in honor of Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd on Tuesday afternoon.

Pa. News notices that the wreath, which the Daughters of Union Veterans placed on the memorial on the public square at the time of the dedication, is still in front of the monument. Certainly is a good looking memorial and the New Castle folks appreciate the gift. It is in honor of the Civil War veterans, living and dead.

New Castle Man Hurt In Peculiar Manner While In Washington

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—A man who gave the name of Archibald Davis, of New Castle, Pa., has decided that he doesn't like the plan so characteristic of Washington of having municipal baseball diamonds all over the place.

This tourist, who told police that he was 41 years old, that his name was Archibald Davis, and that he lived in New Castle, came to Washington to see the White House. He saw the executive mansion—but at the expense of severe cuts about the wrists.

Immediately in back of the White House is a circular roadway about a mile in diameter known as the ellipse. Within the ellipse are several baseball diamonds where Washington's popular teams gather in the evening to disport themselves.

It happened that while Mr. Davis was driving his automobile along this road and observing the beautiful rear gardens of the White House grounds, some baseball games were in progress within the ellipse. And suddenly the crack of a foul ball was followed by the tinkle of broken glass as the horsehide sphere zoomed out of bounds and through a rear window of the car operated by Mr. Davis. Davis was treated at the Emergency hospital for severe cuts on the wrists.

Such is the version of the affair as was told to reporters by police. Mr. Davis could not be located later for questioning.

Administration Leaders Hope

War Relief Bill

FIRST TEST COMES IN SENATE COMMITTEE

Pension Bill Is Blocking Adjournment Of Congress
At Present

WASHINGTON, June 28.—With the mirage of an early adjournment before them, administration leaders today hoped for a compromise of the controversy between President Hoover and Congress on World War pension legislation.

The president appeared likely to win in his efforts to keep the proposed cost within limits of the treasury surplus. His spokesmen, having won in the House, were hopeful of securing the Senate's approval of a pension bill, limiting relief of the World War veterans to a yearly average of $50,000,000 during the next three years.

First Test Today
The first test was to come today in the Senate finance committee, considering the administration's measure and a $35,000,000 American Legion substitute. Reports were current the committee would report the administration bill favorably, since the American Legion has abandoned its own measure and was supporting the presidential draft.

The four "big points" of the administration bill would provide:

1. Straight pensions from $12 to $40 a month to disabled veterans, who served 90 days in the World War, only if they paid no income tax last year.
2. Dependency allowance of $30 a month to father or mother, of $20 to both, of deceased veterans, even though allowance is paid to veteran's widow or family.
3. Compensation of $25 a month to any veteran, who lost hand or foot in active service, in addition to all other allowances.
4. Minimum arbitrary rating of 25 percent partial permanent disability (Continued On Page Two)

Girl Near Death From Snake Bites

Ohio Girl Bitten By Copperhead
Snakes When She Steps
Into Nest

POWHATAN, O., June 28.—Emma Johnson, 18, was near death in a hospital here today from snake bites, despite the use of a special serum which was rushed here by airplane from Philadelphia late yesterday in an effort to save her life.

She was bitten five times by several large copperhead snakes Thursday afternoon while she was picking blackberries near her home, when she stepped into a nest of the reptiles.

With her body full of poison, Miss Johnson found her way home Thursday night after several hours of wandering in a semi-conscious condition.

The girl's physician, who was unable to secure any of the serum here, sent to Philadelphia for a special Brazilian preparation. It arrived last night by airplane.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The fundamental step in the solution of the agricultural problem is organization, Alexander H. Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm board, declared here today in a radio address.

He asserted that with farmers organized, the adjustment of production and effective marketing of agricultural products would be comparatively easy. Unity of action is needed through every stage from planning and planting to marketing, he said.

One Man Killed; Three Others Hurt In Auto Mishap

Accident Occurs When Car Skids Near Munhall Early
Today

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 28.—One man was killed and three companions, who disappeared shortly after the accident, were believed to have been injured when in the automobile in which they were riding skidded and overturned in Munhall, near here, early today.

The dead man was identified by police as William Sargent, 25, of Duquesne.

Police, notified by a motorist that a car was wrecked on Duquesne road, Munhall, investigated and found Sargent in a dying condition. He was rushed to the Homestead hospital by Motorcycle Patrolmen but died before arriving there.

The three companions of the dead man, police learned, left the machine shortly after it was wrecked. Two of them were said to have carried the third whose foot was crushed. All had received lacerations, it was believed. The trio took a trolley to Homestead, police said, and then boarded a cab.

Police were informed of the accident by A. G. Becker and his wife, of Mifflin township. The couple said they passed the wrecked machine but did not stop, fearing it was a holdup scheme.

Chicago Fliers Near To New World Record

(International News Service)
SKY HARBOR AIRPORT, CHICAGO, June 28.—John and Kenneth Hunter wearily pushed their monoplane "City of Chicago" about in the sky today with the world's record, flying endurance record only one day away.

Fighting the temptations of rapidly growing exhaustion, the two brothers held on grimly today. The refueling plane, manned by two other Hunt brothers, Albert and Walter, carried quantities of black coffee to them to stave off sleepiness.

Should the City of Chicago remain aloft until 6:01 (E. S. T.) Sunday morning the Hunters will be in possession of the world's record, the mark which is now held by Dale Jackson and Forrest O'Brien, crew of the St. Louis Robin, their record was 420 hours.

During the night the two brothers drove their Stinson monoplane to a high altitude to guard against a mishap which might follow if one of them dozed at the controls. The plane was flying somewhat "lopsided" due to a leaky fuel tank which necessitates carrying all the gasoline in one wing.

The engine, however, was functioning smoothly at its reduced speed. Both men have taken turns at tending and greasing the mechanism from a catwalk slung alongside the fuselage.

The "City of Chicago" had been aloft exactly 399 hours at 7:40 a. m. today (E. S. T.). The fliers had just 21 hours to go to equal the record of 420 hours.

SKY HARBOR AIRPORT, CHICAGO, June 28.—The "City of Chicago" completed 402 hours aloft at 10:40 a. m. today E. S. T.

High Alumni Meet In Reunion

Annual Gathering Takes Place At Cascade On Friday Night

DR. R. C. LUTZ IS NAMED PRESIDENT

Five hundred or more former New Castle high school students—some who are now burdened with the trying responsibilities of worldly things, and others who embarked upon life's uncertain venture in more recent times—met together for their 17th annual reunion last night at Cascade park.

Other reunions may come and go, but the outing of Friday night is destined to be remembered longer perhaps than all the rest.

With Old Man Weather supplying the best setting that he knew how, and with the graduates themselves in a happy reunion mood, the affair of last night could have turned out nothing but a most successful outing—which it did.

Come From Distance.
Loyal graduates of old Ne-Ca-Hi came from distant cities to participate in the occasion, some coming from Youngstown, Pittsburgh, Beaver Falls, Aliquippa and a score or more of other places. Most of them have passed up but few reunions and they were determined that this year's should not be missed.

A picnic dinner in the park grove marked the beginning of the evening's festivities with probably a hundred or more members of the alumni, their families and friends participating. The groups had brought their basket dinners and coffee and ice cream was provided in a plentiful measure by the alumni association.

For several years past the class of 1913 has taken honors for attendance, and it was right up in front again this year. Thirty-five members of the class sat down to dinner and took part later in their annual business meeting. Probably no other class that graduated from the high school puts the effort into the alumni reunions as (Continued On Page Two)

Counsel For William E. Peters Denies Client Admitted
Killing Whiteside

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—Although William E. Peters' confession to the murder of Frank Reed Whiteside, internationally-known artist, was branded a "myth" by the convict's attorney, Director of Public Safety Schofield today announced the admission was bona fide and that the case had been solved.

Schofield, upon his return from the Pennsylvania Bar association's meeting at Bedford Springs, issued the following statement regarding the case:

"William E. Peters has made a complete confession. That is my answer, and that is all I will say until I confer with Inspector Connelley.

Peters, sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of his art student sweetheart, Leona Fishbach, last Wednesday is said to have admitted slaying the sixty-year-old artist at his home here.

Harry H. Johns, attorney for the convict, who sought permission since Wednesday to consult with his client, finally obtained approval late Wednesday. After a two-hour conference with Peters, Johns announced that his client had repudiated whatever statements he made to police; that he did not know Whiteside, and also denied that the slain artist had been acquainted with Miss Fishbach.

Voluntary surrender, late Friday afternoon, of Hugh Barclay Kirkwood, salesman of the Gulton Motor company to Sergeant D. T. Hennecheck and Michael Shullick, and Constable A. S. Rees was critically injured and Constable DeGraff Robinson was wounded.

The identity of the car which Constable Robinson stated they were investigating is fully established by the statements, but the story of Mr. Kirkwood is that of a motorist who, not knowing the men approaching his car were officers, and believing that he was about to be held up, tried to get away from those whom he suspected to be attempting a hold-up, and the officers were accidentally hurt when knocked from the car.

Shots were fired, marks of bullet holes in the left front fender of his machine, a Chrysler coach, substantiating the claims of Kirkwood of the effort to stop them, it is stated by police.

No effort is being made by the authorities to hold Kirkwood, he being (Continued On Page Five)

Erie Attorney Heads State Bar

(International News Service)
BEDFORD SPRINGS, June 28.—John S. Brooks, of Erie, recognized as one of the outstanding attorneys of Erie County, today was the new head of the Pennsylvania Bar Association. He was unanimously elected president yesterday following his nomination by Charles E. English, of Erie.

Brooks succeeds Bernard J. Meyers of Lancaster.

Voters would be given impartial information of candidates for appellate courts under a plan to be worked out by a committee appointed by the association. The committee was approved by a close vote and after a lengthy debate.

Retiring president Myers objected to the committee on the grounds that there were other ways by which voters would be informed of the abilities of candidates than through the association. He declared the bar would make a great mistake in approving such a committee.

The plan was defended by attorney Albert C. Hirsch, Pittsburgh who pointed it out as a means of improving the administration of justice. William S. Dalzell, Pittsburgh, father of the resolution, declared it was not his intention to have the association enter politics, but rather disseminate partial information to voters.

The result of such information, Dalzell told the convention, would prevent political machines from electing men who were not fitted for a position on the bench.

Arthur Mometer

There was a time, the young lady said, when he stayed at home quite a bit, he didn't bother with outside affairs, and sports were not much of a hit. He was kindly and quiet, took care of his home, and played with his kids and the wife, but that was before, (and here she broke down,) that golf entered into his life. But now he is gone when the dawn paints the hills and he plays till its mighty near dark, and never a time does he ask us to go, for a ride or a stroll in the park. I'm a widow I guess, of the golf shooting tribe, for when luncheon is over and through, he's gone with his clubs where the golfers are found, the weather, just right, eighty two.

Atlantic Fliers To Be Special Guests At British Embassy

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 28.—Major Charles E. Kingsford-Smith and his three intrepid companions who successfully crossed the Atlantic from Ireland to Newfoundland by airplane, will be guests of the British embassy when they come here Monday to receive the congratulations of President Hoover.

Sir Ronald Lindsay, British Ambassador, plans to entertain them informally and they will be invited to attend other social functions.

The present schedule calls for the Southern Cross, which also crossed the Pacific ocean from California to Hawaii, to Australia, and then flew to England, to land at Bolling Field at 11 a. m. The crew will be escorted to the embassy where they will remain until 12:30 when they have an appointment to see the president.

Michael MacWhite, minister of the Irish Free State, will accompany them to the White House as will Sir Ronald.

Police are making arrangements to handle the crowds that are expected to gather at the field to give the air-men a rousing reception.

Will Execute Three Monday

Three Convicted Men Are Scheduled To Die In Chair At Rockview

(International News Service)
BELLFONTE, June 28.—For the first time in a little over a year, three men are to die in the electric chair here today at Rockview penitentiary, next Monday morning.

Martin Avery, 23, and William E.
Hed, 30, both of Pittsburgh and Frank Lawza, 45, sentenced from Luzerne county are the convicted men who are to pay the death penalty for murder, unless an unusual last minute appeal saves them. The pardon board in its final session at Harrisburg before the summer adjournment, refused commutation or recommendations for mercy in all three instances.

Avery and Hed were convicted of shooting Edward J. Kretz, Jr., a Pittsburgh druggist, during an attempted holdup June 21, 1929. They were sentenced to death last February 14.

Lawza, an alleged companion of Gerald Chapman, New England desperado, was convicted of slaying
Thomas Krokosky, a Wilkes-Barre salesman, when he was caught robbing a private dwelling.

Robert Elliot, official executioner, will go to Rockview tomorrow for the final inspection of the death chair.
The grim procession to the chair will start at 7 o'clock Monday morning and is expected to be over before 7:30.

who use their privilege to mass together large units of products because they have a better bargaining power than when they come to market by the thousands, each selling his own crop and competing with the other individuals," he said.

"The privilege of selling in large quantities makes it possible for even an untrained group of farmers to market collectively to a better advantage than is possible under the old system where the private agency, with no control over the flow of the commodity, takes the product as it comes.

"It has been clearly demonstrated in this country that producers of farm crops can so regulate the marketing of their products collectively that they never have a glut. If there is any surplus they can keep it at home and save freight."

Legge urged the amalgamation, consolidation or merger of all the great national farm organizations.

"Imagine what power these organizations could generate if their forces were all mobilized into one unit and put to work organizing farmers to improve conditions for agriculture," he said.

You're the JUDGE

Young Smith had been keeping company with Bill Jones' sister for some time. It was common knowledge to Young Smith and to all the others in the two families that Bill Jones disliked Smith and resented the fact that his sister kept company with him.

One day the matter broke into argument in the Jones home. So violently did Bill quarrel with his sister that he presently he approached her and backing her up against a wall commenced to slap her face and beat her generally.

Just at that moment the Smith boy entered. He saw what was going on and pulling out a knife rushed to Bill, grasped him by the shoulder and threw him to one side. All the fight that Bill had against Smith now was aroused and he rushed at him.
The men scuffled and Smith stabbed
Bill, a stab which eventually proved fatal.

Smith was soon put on trial. But his lawyer argued that Smith had merely interfered to defend the girl and cited the law that whatever one may do for himself he may do for another.

HIGH ALUMNI MEET IN REUNION

does this, which renewed its interest in alumni affairs last night.

Election in Grove.

A business meeting for the entire association followed immediately after the dinner last night, with the retiring president, Howard M. Kirk, Jr., presiding. Nothing but the election of association officers was scheduled to occur, so the meeting was a brief one.

Attorney Ralph A. Cooper, an alumnus of the school, presented the nominating committee's slate, which resulted in the election of the following officers:

President—Dr. Raymond C. Lutz.
First vice president—Mrs. Rachael Pollock Taylor.
Second vice president—Dr. Kenneth E. Voorhees.

Secretary—Mrs. Dorothy Ralph Bartlett.

Treasurer—John D. Kennedy.
Representative of the alumni on the athletic committee—James K. Love.

Grand March Features.
Following the election the alumni left the grove for the pavilion, where a grand march was to be staged. Previously scheduled for 9 o'clock, the march of graduates was delayed by General Chairman Ralph M. Campbell until 9:30. The attendance by that time had increased considerably.

With nearly 60 couples in line, General Chairman Campbell marched at the head closely followed by Dr. R. C.
Lutz, newly elected president of the association, and Mrs. Lutz. Directly behind them were Retiring President Kirk and other officers of the association.

For nearly 15 minutes the graduates marched to the strains of School Days and popular numbers and different martial airs.

Near the end, the march was halted and the pavilion quited while the newly elected president was introduced. Dr. Lutz responded in a brief speech, asking the cooperation of the graduates and hoping that interest in the alumni affairs would continue to grow. Speaking for the association, the new president extended greetings to the graduates of the 1930 classes, who attended as guests last night.

The march was resumed again immediately after Dr. Lutz had finished and soon after dancing commenced again and continued throughout the evening.

STAR LORE GAS DENSITY AT SUN'S CENTER

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

Eddington's computed star model based on the known laws of gases, furnishes some interesting information regarding what's in a star: It was found that the density of the gaseous matter at the center of a star, like Capella, is 30 times its mean density. The deduction applied to the sun reveals that its density at the center, is 28 times that of water. We know that the mean density of the earth is 5 1/2 times that of water, but the earth's outer granite rock layer has a density of only 2.7 as compared with water. So the density of the physical matter at the sun's center is 10 times that of granite rock.

REBECCA J. GARVIN WILL SING SUNDAY

At the 11 o'clock service tomorrow in the Trinity Church, corner of North Mill and East Falls streets, the contralto, "Like as a Father," by a modern American composer, John Prindle Scott, will be sung for the first time by Miss Rebecca J. Garvin.
One of Mr. Scott's more recent and best compositions, music lovers will be interested to hear it sung by one of New Castle's best soloists. The assistance at the organ will be by Mr. Paul B. Patterson, organist and choirmaster of the church.

Big Greek Picnic At Mount Jackson

Many Greeks To Gather Here
For Fourth Annual Picnic
Tomorrow

Tomorrow is the day when a large gathering of Greeks from Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio will occur at Shady View, Mount Jackson to enjoy the fourth annual picnic of the Greek-American Progressive association. All plans for the outing have been completed according to George Micros, president of the local lodge.

To Have Parade
At 10:30 o'clock a parade which will start on the Diamond and end at the Greek Orthodox church on Reynolds street will be the first event on the program. At the Greek church following services, Attorney Lee Johnson, grand president of the lodge, of Pittsburgh will deliver an address to the crowd.

The crowd will then go by buses
and automobiles to Shady View, Mount Jackson, for dinner. There a program for the afternoon will be carried out. The program includes athletic contests, concerts and addresses to be delivered by noted leaders of the G. A. P. A. organization.

Buses and automobiles to take the crowd to the picnic grounds will be found in front of the local lodge's hall room on 138 West Long avenue. All Greeks are asked to display flags on Sunday. The speakers at the picnic grounds during the afternoon will be Anthony Mourouli of Pittsburgh, George Koutrits of Canton, Ohio and George Micros, president of the local lodge.

The Greek people of this city as well as those coming from other cities are looking forward to a grand time.

George Micros president of the local lodge has submitted the list of the names of the different committees in charge of the outing. The committee follows: Parade committee, Anthony Mourouli, grand governor of Pittsburgh, Pohn Darias, Akron, Ohio, Theodore Mastrokakis, Pittsburgh,
Theodore Sarlis, Warren, Ohio,
George Hatzelis, Youngstown, Ohio,
George Micros, New Castle, Pa.

The committee in charge of the picnic, Manuel Mattheus, James Sakel-son, Paul Birakis, Manuel Pahlis, Nick Stefanis, Harry Manuels, Mike
Nicolopoulos, Manuel Vlahos, George
DeVeshe, Nick Chalkias, William Chalkias, William Hamiotis, and Steve Tsambouris.

The women who will serve dinner at Shady View follow: Mrs. Harry Pahlis, Mrs. James Sakelson, Mrs.
Mike Nicolopoulos, Miss Katina Tsigourakos, Mrs. John Mitchell, and Mrs. Zarkadas, who is president of the Greek Ladies' society.

ERIE BOY SCOUT IN BYRD'S PARTY WELCOMED HOME

Pa. he old reporters. "They advised me to join the Boy Scouts, and it was the greatest thing I ever did.
My only hope is that other boys will join them, too, because it is one of the finest trainings any boy can get."

A spontaneous parade with thousands of reviewing it was the outstanding feature of the day's celebration. Hundreds of Boy Scouts participated including delegations from Warren, Indiana, Meadville.

Then came a public reception in Academy Stadium, attended by a huge crowd. Glowing tributes were paid to the Scout and fitting honors were bestowed.

"I am going back to Allegheny college after I finish my public program with Rear Admiral Byrd," said Siple.
"After that I intend to make Boy Scouting activities my life's work."

Before returning to New York to join Byrd and other members of the expedition party, Paul will be honor guest at a public banquet when he will broadcast over Station WEDH his experiences in the Antarctic region.

City Jail Undergoes Complete Change

City jail has undergone a complete transformation in the past few days, that will make it less habitable for the roaches and bed bugs and much more habitable for those who have occasion to spend some time there, either because of a misdemeanor or because of no place to sleep.

The walls have been painted white,
the cell bars are to be painted green and the interior of the cells will also be painted. The place has also been thoroughly disinfected.

for all veterans, having arrested or apparently cured tuberculosis. This rating would enable a veteran, so classified, to gain greater compensation, if suffering from any other disability.

All the "presumptive origin" features were eliminated from the new bill. Some of the features eliminated from the administration measure but retained in the substitute
American Legion bill, would provide:

Declaration of presumptive service origin for all constitutional and chronic diseases, from which veterans were suffering prior to July 1, 1925.
The vetoed bill would have extended this date to July, 1930.

Payment of $50 a month pension to veterans having arrested tuberculosis.

Payment of $3 a month to hospitalized veterans and of pensions up to $40 a month to their dependent families during hospitalization.

Allowance of compensation to veterans, disabled by their own misconduct only if disabled while in active service. The vetoed bill would have extended this allowance to veterans, whether disabled in or out of service.

The pension bill alone blocked adjustment. All other legislation, which administration leaders desire to act, has been passed through. A large number of minor bills probably will be jammed through in the closing days.

BAPTIST CHOIR MEMBERS DINE

A gala event for the choir members of the First Baptist church and their families was the dinner held Friday evening in the church dining room when they assembled for the annual get-together event.

The tables were beautifully appointed, garden flowers being used in profusion and the centerpiece was a large cake, elaborately decorated. The gift of Mrs. Chester Crest. Covers were placed for 45, the most excellent menu was deliciously prepared by Mrs. Harry Remey, Mrs. Harry Cook and Mrs. Boyd Ressler.

Invocation was asked by C. L. Pombell and during the course of the dinner John Owens, director of the choir, was presented with a gift from his choir members.

Missionary Picnic

The home of Mrs. W. B. McQuiston of the New Wilmington road was a scene of a merry gathering Thursday when the Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church of New Wilmington met for an all day session.

Covers were laid for 33 at a table beautifully decorated where an elaborate menu was served by Mrs. McQuiston and Mrs. Alice Heckathorn who were joint hostesses. Following the dinner a brief business meeting was held when a missionary program was carried out in celebration of the 50th anniversary of the society. The characters taking part were dressed in costumes representing the time from 1880 to 1930. A period sewing was enjoyed, bringing the gathering to a close.

Return From Trip

Mrs. Mayo L. Porter, daughters, Grace and Ruth, Wallace avenue, accompanied by Mrs. George L. Hostetter and daughter Marjory May of Pulaski have returned from a motor trip to Dearborn, Mich., returning by way of Sandusky, Cedar Point, Cleveland and Geneva on the Lake, Ohio.

BRIDE-ELECT IS HONORED AT PARTY

Mrs. James Wigton and Mrs. Carl Rodgers were associate hostesses last evening when they entertained in the former's home on South Crawford avenue 24 guests in honor of Miss Edna Rodgers of East Brook, a bride-elect of July.

Various games and music occupied the social hours with a delicious lunch being served at the close of the entertainment by the hostesses. Garden flowers decorated the tables in a pretty fashion, with tones of pink and white being cleverly used. Mrs. Ralph Rodgers and Mrs. Paul Strobel assisted.

At an appropriate time the guest of honor was presented with a shower of miscellaneous gifts for use in her new home.

Warnock Reunion

The fifth annual reunion of the Warnock reunion occurred on Wednesday, June 25 at the home of the Honorable George T. Weingartner and wife with 80 in attendance.

A full course menu was served at 6:30 o'clock with a business session following when new officers were elected. The results are as follows: president, George T. Weingartner; vice-president, Frederick Warnock of Youngstown, Ohio; secretary, Laura Warnock; treasurer, D. B. Warnock.

Members attending from a distance included Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Welsh and daughter Joan, Marguerite Welsh, Mrs. E. J. Barr of Leeburg, Pa., Mrs. Leola Douglas of Mt. Lebanon, Pa., Mrs. R. S. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Blouet and son Richard, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Wall, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hervey, Rev. R. L. Warnock and sister Edith of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Magee Reunion

The annual reunion of the Magee family was held at Alameda Park, at Butler, on Thursday, June 25, with 100 in attendance including descendants and friends. An appetizing picnic dinner was served at the appropriate hour when a business meeting was called by the officers. At this time, a printed pamphlet form of the family history composed by Mrs. J. A. White and several others, was read and copies were distributed to those present.

At a late hour, the song especially written for the Magee family was sung with Mrs. James M. Blackwood leading, it being written to the music of "Flow Gently Sweet Afton" by J. James Blair. The reunion will be held at the same place next year.

Session Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Clark, Frizzleburg, entertained the members of the session of the Bedford United Presbyterian church, their wives and the pastor, Rev. Ostermeier, in their home Thursday evening and a pleasant social evening was enjoyed with the hostess serving a delicious lunch at a late hour, assisted by her daughter Laura.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. George White, Frank Phyllis, Frank Shields, Rev. Henry Ostermeier, A. M. Clark, Sara Stamm, Martha Cowden and John Cowden.

CLASS OF 1913 IN REUNION AT PARK

Fifty five members and guests of the New Castle High school class of 1913 were present Friday evening when the class held its annual reunion in conjunction with the annual alumni association outing at Cascade park.

In the business meeting which followed the dinner, Mrs. Glenora House Brindle was chosen president for the coming year; Charles E. Allen was named vice president; Miss Jeannette Hutton, secretary and Mrs. Ed C. Wilson, treasurer. The retiring president, Elmer R. Patterson presided.

Plans were made by the class for its reunion in 1931 which will probably take place in Youngstown. Every five years the class has a banner reunion, the last meeting being held in 1928.

Out of town guests of the class last night were Dr. and Mrs. James Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Book, of Youngstown.

EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETS WITH PRESIDENT

Mrs. B. Khne, president of the New Castle Section Council of Jewish Women, met with her executive board Wednesday afternoon in her home on East Wallace avenue, and at this meeting the delegates to the state convention to be held in Pittsburgh in October, were named.

White-Thompson Reunion

The 19th annual reunion of the White-Thompson families was held at Willard Grange Hall, Thursday, June 26 with 125 present. The Rev. Frank Black opened the day with prayer, with the Rev. Green Lee giving the closing blessing.

After a delicious picnic dinner was served, the program of entertainment arranged by the appointed committee was in progress, followed by a business session when the election of officers took place. Those elected are: president, Mrs. James Thompson; vice-president, Harry White; secretary, Mrs. Samuel Linton; treasurer, Arch White; table committee, Mrs. Harry White, chairman; entertainment committee, Mrs. May Dean, Mrs. Floyd Houk and Mrs. John Biddle.

The next reunion will be held at the same place on the fourth Thursday in June.

O. D. 500 Club

Mrs. Russell Crane delightfully entertained members of the O. D. 500 club in her home on Harrison street Friday evening.

Three tables of 500 were in play and upon conclusion of cards, it was found Mrs. Louis McKnight and Mrs. Henry Fletcher held high scores and they were awarded lovely prizes. Another feature of the evening was the birthday shower held on the hostess, when she received many beautiful gifts.

Closing the evening the hostess assisted by her daughter Leona and Dorothy Fletcher, served a tasty lunch and the club adjourned to meet July 9 with Mrs. H. J. Phillips, of East Washington street.

E. O. W. Kensington

Mrs. LeRoy Martin entertained the members of the E. O. W. Kensington in her home on Albert street on a recent evening for their regular meeting. Two tables of 500 formed the diversion of the social hour. At the close of play, the guests presented Mrs. Walter Kilner, a bride of recent date with a surprise shower which included many beautiful gifts.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Roberts. Places marked for all members and two guests, Mrs. Roberts who is from Detroit, Michigan and Mrs. Samuel Freed.

R. R. Club

The R. R. Club met for their usual social time at the home of Mrs. Thomas Fontana of High street, Thursday. A brief business session was held, with a social period following with dancing and music as the pastimes. Dainty refreshments were later served by the hostess assisted by Miss Katherine Gociano and Mrs. Peter DePalma. Mrs. Joseph Ambrosia was a special guest.

July 17 the club will meet with Mrs. F. D. Ross of Center street.

NOUS-A-MON CLUB HAS TUREEN DINNER

The Nous-A-Mon Girls club held a tureen dinner at the home of Mrs. Pearl Cook at Lakewood Friday evening, marking their usual meeting.

A business session was held with the president, Mrs. Irene Gorley presiding, when plans were completed for a week's camping at the W. B. S. Camp at Port Huron, Michigan in July. The club members are also planning to attend the W. B. A. pageant which will be held in Chicago in 1931.

The next meeting of the club will occur on Friday evening, July 25 in the form of a picnic dinner at Cascade Park, with husbands and families as guests. The committee in charge of arrangements comprise Jessie Harper, chairlady, Katherine McClintock and Jessie Harris. At a later date, it was also decided to have a ham-fry at Cascade Park.

The remaining hours were pleasantly spent in boating and bathing, bringing the event to a close.

As special guests, the ladies had Mrs. Ethel Thomas and Mrs. O. G. Crooks.

ZERNER-PHILPOTT REHEARSAL DINNER

An event of interest was held in the Field Club House Friday evening at six thirty when members of the Zerner-Philpott wedding party assembled for a rehearsal dinner preceding the wedding of Miss Ruth Zerner, only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Zerner, Boyles avenue, to Harold Philpott, only son of Mrs. May Philpott of Richelleu avenue when will take place at 4:30 this afternoon in the Zerner home on East Boyles avenue.

The dining room of the Field Club was profusely decorated in summer flowers for the event and the table cleverly carried out the wedding idea with covers placed for Miss Ruth Zerner, the bride-elect, Harold Philpott, groom to be, Helen Hukson, maid of honor; Ellen Mates of Cretton and Katherine Redman of Pittsburgh, bridesmaids; Willard Lawrence of Pittsburgh, best man; Karl Kuhn, Detroit and Raymond Malloy, Pittsburgh, who will act as ushers.

B. B. B. MEMBERS MAKE PICNIC PLANS

Mrs. Walter Gross proved a delightful hostess Friday evening when she entertained members of the B. B. B. Club in her home on Hazen street. Bridge forming the chief diversion of the social hours, was highly enjoyed with lovely favors being awarded to Mrs. William Fox and Mrs. Robert Caiman. The regular club prize was given to Mrs. S. E. Baxter of Hubbard, Ohio who was a special guest.

A delicious lunch was later served the guests at the small tables prettily decorated in pastel tones centered with bouquets of Spring flowers. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. William Fox and Mrs. S. E. Baxter.

In two weeks the club will enjoy a picnic dinner to be held at Cascade Park, which many plans have been promising a pleasant time to all in attendance.

BASKET CLUB MEMBERS MEETING ENJOYABLE

The meeting of the Basket Club members held Friday at the home of Mrs. William M. Brown on East street, proved a most delightful occasion, when an attendance of 40 including members and guests enjoyed a social time spent informally, with music and chat.

At a suitable time, the hostess served an elaborate menu at a table beautifully decorated in Spring flowers with tones of pink and white predominating. Unique favors marked each guest's place.

This was the last meeting of the club for the season, until September 26 at which time they will resume their regular schedule.

Saegraponti-DeOrto Wedding

A beautiful wedding was solemnized in St. Vitus church Thursday morning when Vella Saegraponti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Saegraponti, became the bride of Alfonso DeOrto of this city. Rev. Fr. De Mita read the nuptial mass and the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an ivory satin gown with fitted bodice and long uneven hemline, her tulle veil being held in place with a cap of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

Anna Serafino, cousin of the groom, as maid of honor was lovely in a gown of powder blue with large hat to match; she carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. Patsy DeOrto of Detroit, acted as best man.

The wedding was supplemented with a dinner in the home of the bride after which the couple left on a wedding trip.

Bertone-DeCarbo

A pretty wedding was solemnized this morning in St. Coleman's church, Cleveland, O., when Miss Louise Bertone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Domenick Bertone of Cleveland, Ohio became the bride of Nicholas DeCarbo son of Mrs. Anthony DeCarbo of 514 East Luton street, this city.

Miss Christina DeCarbo, sister of the bridegroom was maid of honor. Peter Mele acted as best man. This evening in the King Humbert Hall on Davidson street a reception will be given. Following ceremonies tonight the newly married couple will leave for a honeymoon.

H. G. L. 500 Club

Members of the H. G. L. 500 club enjoyed a picnic dinner Friday at Willow Grove, with 11 guests present. An appetizing menu was served at a suitable hour and later the gathering went to the home of Mrs. W. H. Toney on Laurel boulevard where they continued their meeting.

Two tables of 500 were in play, closing the gathering until July 11 when Mrs. H. H. Freshwater will be hostess.

Class Picnic at Park

Members of the Temple Bible class of the First Baptist church, taught by Daniel Kennedy, assembled at Cascade park Friday evening for a picnic supper.

Covers were arranged for 30 at a table in the grove and a delicious menu was served with Mrs. Charles McCune of District D in charge of arrangements.

Following supper the class enjoyed the amusements of the park.

Attend Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Conlon and son Edward, Jr., have returned after attending the wedding of Miss Florence McCann to Frederick William Harris of Struthers.

Albion Reunion

The reunion of the Albion families will be held on July the fourth at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Albion of East Brook.

In Religious and Fraternal Circles

Helena Auxiliary

Members of the Helena Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church held the last meeting of the season in the church parlors Friday afternoon with Mrs. D. A. Moore as hostess.

Miss Sara J. Knott gave a most interesting resume of the study book, "From Jerusalem to Jerusalem," which was taken up by the women this year.

HOLD EVERYTHING NEW CASTLE FOR "HOLD EVERYTHING"

IT HAS EVERYTHING

If you have never attended a theatre before do it now! The talking comedy picture sensation "Hold Everything" with Winnie Lightner and Joe E. Brown and the "Gold Diggers of Broadway" cast and chorus will be at the Capitol at a special attraction all next week.

"Hold Everything" has everything. This Warner Bros. and Vitaphone production, is one of the funniest comedies ever screened. With Winnie Lightner and Joe E. Brown in the leading roles, delivering the clever dialogue, there is a riot of laughter from start to finish. There is a wealth of beautiful set-ings in "Hold Everything," and Director Roy Del Ruth has produced a picture which may well take its place as one of the outstanding successes of the current season. Lay the dishes aside, park the baby with grandma, and hurry to the Capitol, for the biggest and funniest time of your life.

Auto Driver Gives Another Version Of Constables Wounds

permitted to go on his own recognition following the making of his statement.

Kirkwood's Story

According to Kirkwood, about 11:30 o'clock Thursday night he and the young lady arrived at the scene of the occurrence which ended in the serious injury of Constable Rees and the injury to a much lesser degree of Constable Robinson.

En route he had purchased an orange, some tomatoes and some cigarettes at a wayside stand, according to the statement made to the local authorities. They then proceeded to the Coaltown crossroad at Shenango U. P. church as it is sometimes known, turned to the right on it from the Wilmington road, proceeded to Black lane and turned to the left, just off the Coaltown road, and parked on an open space near a maple tree.

Here he and his girl friend proceeded to enjoy the tomatoes and orange. They had the dome light of the car on as they sat in the rear seat eating their refreshments. The light drew myriads of small flies and after a time it was turned off to put a stop to this nuisance.

Man Outside

Suddenly when the girl, for some reason, looked out at the rear of the car, she exclaimed to Kirkwood that there was a man there. A second look, and greatly frightened, she advised him that there were two men.

Kirkwood climbed into the front seat as he believed that they were about to be attacked, he says, and attempted to start up his machine. The starter refused to function properly in this emergency and for the moment he was unable to get started.

Just then there was a demand made by one of the men to open a window of the car. Kirkwood replied to come around where he was on the left-hand side of the car.

Suddenly following this conversation both appeared on the left-hand side of the car and the window by the driver's seat was crashed in, Kirkwood declares.

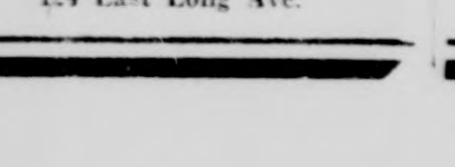

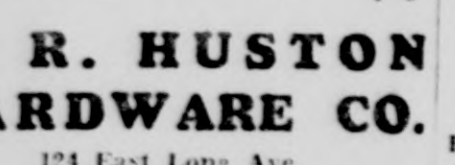

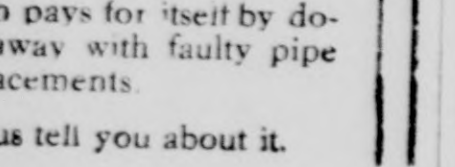

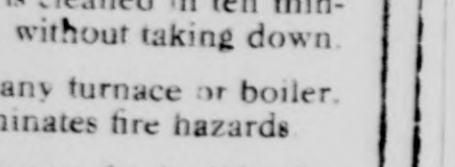

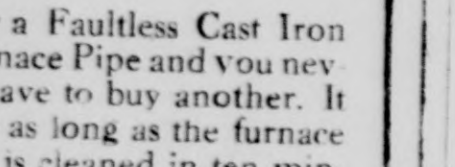

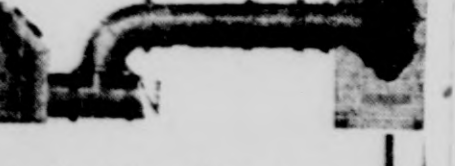

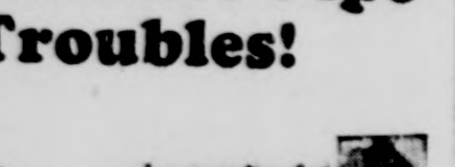

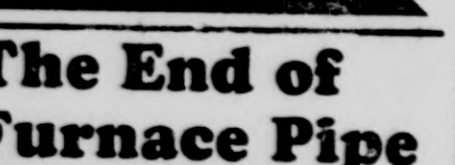

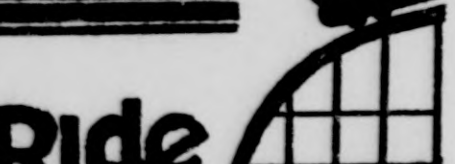

Kirkwood, then more convinced than ever that he was being held up, was getting his machine under way and both these men jumped on the left-hand runningboard.

One of the men started firing, apparently at the left front tire, in an effort to stop the machine, which was gaining momentum and was making it hard for the men to hold on as they rode on the runningboard.

Three of the shots fired pierced the left front fender of the machine, while a fourth was apparently fired but did not puncture the fender.

One Falls Off

The speed of the car was increasing momentarily and the roughness of the road was making it hard for the men on the runningboard, and one of them had to get off and dropped or probably fell off.

Determined to get rid of the other man, Kirkwood then drove purposely into the ditch to try and shake him off, and while the machine was careening along the ditch the man remaining on the runningboard came in contact with a tree overhanging the ditch and was knocked off.

Kirkwood, thoroughly frightened, was not interested in seeing what had become of the men, whom he believed to have been trying to hold him up, and speeded up for the city, going directly to the home of his employer to report what had happened. Not desiring to make too much noise and attract too general attention, he failed to get in touch with his employer. In the meantime he had taken the girl home.

He then went down town and found Officer Bud Fiegeer, reporting the occurrence to him, and was referred to the state police.

About one o'clock Friday morning, he says, he arrived at the Colonial Hotel, headquarters of the state police. There he saw an elderly man with a blanket about him, sleeping in a chair and decided to postpone his report rather than bother the man.

Friday he spent the day figuring on the best thing to do, being under the impression that whoever it had been that had made the attack on him would make some move and he would then have his opportunity.

Reports to Police

Finally during the afternoon he decided to make his report to someone, and shortly after four o'clock he walked into the city police station and gave himself up to Sergeant Nelson.

Decision of Chief of Police C. C. Horner was that the case should be turned over to the county and state police authorities, having occurred outside the city, and Kirkwood was turned over to County Detective H. Martin Lee and State Police Officer J. C. Hennecke.

County Detective Lee, Constable Leslie and members of the state police force spent a considerable part of Friday morning and afternoon at the scene of the affair, making minute and exhaustive investigation of everything possible concerning the place and the affair.

Rees in Serious Shape

Last evening and some time after the tripping operation performed on Constable Rees, County Detective Lee and Constable Leslie visited at the bedside of Rees. The latter had regained consciousness at times and in one of these fleeting moments he looked up and recognized County Detective Lee.

The county detective and Constable Leslie spent some time at the bedside of the injured constable, listening to his mumbled words and trying to piece together things he said and names he repeated in an effort to determine a part of his probable story of the incident, all parts of which are now in the hands of the authorities with the exception of Constable Rees.

This effort proved of little material aid in their investigations. Investigations at the scene of the affair earlier in the day bore out the statements of Kirkwood to a considerable extent, as to the spot where Constable Robinson reports having found the unconscious form of Constable Rees in the ditch on his return was right beside the tree on which some human hair was also found, bearing out the assertion of Kirkwood that the second man on his runningboard on coming in contact with the tree fell off.

At the Jameson Memorial hospital this morning it was stated that the condition of Constable Rees was very critical, that he did not rest well during the night nor since the tripping operation, which was performed about three o'clock Friday afternoon.

Robinson's Version.

"To the best of my belief and knowledge, I was never nearer than 50 feet of the car which I have since learned to be that of Hugh Kirkwood nor did I use my revolver, which had some exploded shells in it," said Constable DeGraff W. Robinson of the second ward, to a representative of The News, when interviewed today relative to the affair Thursday night on a road, sometimes known as Black lane, and located short distance from the Shenango U. P. church.

"They say, Kirkwood and his lady friend, that both I and Constable Rees were on the running board of the Kirkwood car and that there was some shooting, but if we were I have no knowledge of it," continued Constable Robinson. "The last I remember was crouching in the bushes some 50 feet from the car, which was parked off the road with the front wheels about on the edge of the road, and saw Constable Rees as he deoured through the underbrush to a point near the rear of the car. My first recollection after that was when I awoke, after a lapse of almost an hour and a half, to find myself lying in a field, 100 yards from the point of my last recollection, injured, weak and unable to get up and on.

"I thought then and also when I found Rees in the ditch, that I had been hit and had been hit and assaulted and there is nothing of my own knowledge to make me think differently. When I woke up and finally reached Rees, some 50 feet away, I then realized that my own gun and Rees' were missing. My own gun was found the next morning a few feet from where I recovered consciousness, by John Miller, who turned it over to the state police. I do not know whether or not Rees' gun has been found.

"It was something after 10:30 o'clock Thursday night, when Constable Rees and myself reached the Rees home after leaving the Gilmore office and started out. Going from the Wilmington road at Walmo toward the east, we turned to the left at what I know as the old plank road, at the Free Methodist church and turned north on the plank road. Near the end of that road, where it joins the cross road, which starts at the Shenango U. P. church and goes east toward the Coaltown or Mercer road, we found a car parked on the road without lights. I took the number of the car and we ordered the driver to go on, which he did. Then we turned onto the cross road from the Shenango U. P. church going a short distance west and parked my car in which we were riding. Getting out, we walked up the road toward a road that goes north from this road. As we proceeded, we discovered a car parked without lights in an open space to one side of the road.

"I stopped in the brush and bushes about 50 feet from the car, while Rees started to circle around to the rear of the car. I could see his shadow as he passed along among the trees and brush and it seemed to me that he was about at the rear of the car when I became a blank and that is all I knew until I recovered my senses, about an hour and a half later, as the incidents indicate.

"Ordinarily, as it is claimed, I had approached the car, Rees would have flashed his flashlight on the car and shown his badge, when I would have gone forward to assist. This did not occur, that I know of.

"As I came out of my dazed condition, the first thing I realized was that I was lying on the ground, that I was injured and too weak to get up. I then discovered two lights, in one direction, which it gradually dawned upon me might be the lights of my car, and in the other one light, which I could not understand.

"Gradually when I felt equal to it I got up and started toward the one light to investigate. On arriving at it, I found that the light was the flashlight of Rees and found him lying in the ditch. I attempted to raise him up, and he said, 'For — sake let me alone, I'm hurt.' I made no further attempt, then, because I realized that I was too weak.

"Then I went to my car, drove it up beyond Rees, turned it around and attempted again to lift him up and put him in the car. Again he said, 'For — sake, let me alone, you're hurting me.'

"It was then I realized that I needed help and went to a house, perhaps half a mile away and located near the intersection of the plank road and the cross road from Shenango church toward Coaltown or the old Mercer road, and succeeded in getting the man of the house. He told me it was about 1 o'clock, when I asked him the way.

"We returned to the place where Rees was lying and put him in the rear seat, the man getting in with him. I then drove the machine to the home of Dr. Allan W. Urmon, who stated that there was nothing he could do and said to take Rees to the Jameson Memorial hospital and that he would have everything arranged when we got there. We then went to the hospital. This is my knowledge of the entire affair. I have told all I know, regardless of statements to the contrary."

TOWN DOCTOR

"DOCTOR OF TOWNS" SAYS

HERE IS SOMETHING WORTH READING

If people would apply the same good business principles to their attitude toward their community as do "1930 Sellers" to the store, firm or business they represent, there would be fewer "dead" towns.

In a recent issue of a bulletin called "Better Selling" appeared an editorial from which every thinking citizen of every live community can get much good. Here it is with quotation marks omitted:

Did anyone with a secure position, drawing a regular salary and knowing that he or she could not or would not be fired for indifference, carelessness, laziness, impudence or inattention, ever advance any new idea, accomplish anything worth while or ever GET anyplace? No!

The real things of life have been accomplished by men and women who counted the days and hours, not by the hands on the clock but by the results obtained; people who had a goal to be reached, a prize to attain, a reward to be earned; men and women who were BIG enough to "take telling" and who DID take telling and who got out and WORKED to profit by that which they were told.

If I am ready and willing to work twelve hours a day and do work twelve hours a day, it is none of your business. If you are willing to work only six hours a day and work but six hours a day, it is none of my business. BUT, if I work twelve hours a day and you work but six hours a day, it is none of your business if my wife and children wear better clothes, eat better food, drive a better automobile and live in a better house than your wife and children.

Indifference toward New Castle on your part can keep it from ever "getting anyplace". Carelessness in what you say regarding it can cause inattention to it at a time when attention is most desired to obtain a worth-while industry. Failure on your part to get out with others and work together for a common good can and will keep you from accomplishing anything.

If some other community gets together and works consistently, persistently and harmoniously to make their town a better, more interesting, more attractive place in which to live, work, play and make money—that's their business. If you refuse to put your shoulder to the wheel alongside the men and women who are trying to push New Castle ahead; if you lie back and not only refuse to work but don't even shout encouragement—that's your business. BUT, don't crab if some other town takes business away from you, people move away and—yes, even if your factories close down, and you are laid off.

Say what you please, think what you please; but the fact remains that empty houses, empty stores, empty factories and empty other things are sure signs that somewhere along the line there have been some empty heads. No handful of people in any town can do everything, but all of the people, working in the right direction, TOGETHER, can do anything.

Foster's Weather Forecast
WASHINGTON, June 28. — Last week of June is expected to average much cooler than period June 12 to 22. Storm force and precipitation will increase generally over the continent during last week of June; least precipitation during this period from Rockies to longitude 100, the west half of sections 1, 3 and 5; greatest storm force during this period near central storm path; the average route of central transcontinental storms is south, thru the western part of sections 1 and 3 to northern edge of cotton belt, then a little north of east to vicinity of St. Lawrence valley. Last principal storm wave of June, centering on 27, will average cool and wet, but its principal force will be confined to moderately severe local storms. Cropweather Features Expected During July. July will be expected to average considerably above normal temperatures and below normal precipitation to the continent as a whole; distribution of precipitation will be spotty, come mostly with severe storms centering on 12, 16 and 20 and with moderate storm wave centering on 28 and be confined mostly, as will storm force, to small areas of eastern Great Central valleys from Great Lakes region to Gulf and along Atlantic coast. Moderate storm wave expected to center on 2 will be a heat producer; during this storm period, particular attention should be paid to the movement of any low barometer storm wave that may appear in the Caribbean or south Atlantic. During storm period centering on 28, a northern cold wave will threaten far northern fields with killing frosts and spring wheat belt with hail. A general cool wave will follow storm center of 2. Greatest heat will be expected centering on 2, but most prolonged period of hot weather centering on 16. Central and eastern cotton belt will probably receive too much moisture for best results during the month. Near July 2 and from 9 to 21, conditions will be favorable to the formation of severe storms in eastern and southern parts of Great Central valleys. Rev. T. E. R. Phillips, British amateur observer of Jupiter, believes that he has discovered spots upon that planet, the movement of which indicates that storms on Jupiter have cycles similar to those on the Earth. Why not? These spots move rapidly with the planets rotation, but much faster than the more permanent belt-like markings on the northern and southern edges of the new spotted belt. It is recorded that a similar line

Make Reports Of State Convention

P. H. C. Members Hear Of Action Taken At Recent Gathering
Representatives and qualified members of New Castle Circle No. 5 Protected Home Circle, attending the recent convention held in Harrisburg Thursday night filled with enthusiasm for perhaps the best convention ever held by the Keystone State. The sessions were all held in the Penn Harris Hotel with State Grand President of Harrisburg presiding. The registration numbered eighteen hundred and a vast amount of business was disposed of throughout the session. A feature of the convention was the elaborate banquet held and the competitive drills of nine degree teams. The degree staff of No. 5 here too all honors and upon request gave an exhibition drill on the public square all traffic at this time was stopped and round upon round of applause greeted the Knickerbocker Girls as they presented the beautiful movements of the wonderful drill by R. L. Kissinger drummer of the Vet Foreign War drum core. New Castle Circle was also signally honored during the Grand sessions with the election of Past President and Trustee A. L. Conn as supreme representative for the Supreme Convention held in Washington, D. C. in 1931. Past President Leonard E. Dandy won the election of Grand Guide with Counselor of Junior Work Roy Erwin as alternate. Past-President Gertrude Halboth was appointed as chairman of one of the most important committees in the Grand Circle and these officers will represent the local circle when the Grand Circle convenes in Pittsburgh in 1932. The delegation from New Castle to the Harrisburg convention express their appreciation of the hospitality extended them while in the Capitol city not only by the splendid committees in charge of the event but to Harrisburg as well. Lillie B. Jones, Secretary.

Justice Department To Start Taking Up Enforcement Tuesday

Responsibility Of Enforcing Prohibition Laws Now
With New Bureau

Large Personnel Will Handle
Work Headed By Attorney-General Mitchell

By ROBERT U. THORNBURG
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Again Uncle Sam is preparing for a new campaign of the "enormous forces" of his government against the rum running after 11 years of effort and reconnaissance during which has grown probably the world's most difficult law enforcement problem.

Tuesday next the responsibility of enforcing the prohibition laws will be with the justice department instead of the treasury. Today secretary Mellon was completing the details of handing over the job to attorney-general Mitchell.

Field Force Ready
Clearly the latter was apprehensive, judging from his statement, that in those states which have repealed enforcement statutes and whose authorities do not perform a proper share of the work, there have been, and will continue to be, grave deficiencies in enforcement.

A field force of 19,000 officials, 12 administrators, 12 permit supervisors, 37 enforcement chiefs in each judicial district, and the same number of permissive experts, will begin to function July 1.

The setup is along judicial circuit lines, entirely different from the prohibition district boundaries of the past. The first organization was a long state line, and that existed under general Lincoln C. Andrews, once chief of the A. E. F. Military Police, was "called" to build a real prohibition army.

Districts Created
Enforcement districts were then created so each in a general way would take in territory through which the same problems existed, such as smuggling along the coast and borders, alcohol diversions in industrial centers and moonshining in the south.

Bootlegging has flourished under each of these past setups and in the words of one prominent enforcement official the administration of the law "is becoming increasingly difficult."

What will happen under the new arrangement is a matter for the future. Assistant secretary of the treasury Seymour Lowman expressed the opinion that with detection and prosecution in the same department a higher degree of efficiency could be obtained. In remarking on the plan of Mitchell to obtain greater state cooperation prohibition commissioner James M. Doran declared that no better man could be obtained to carry out this policy than Col. A. W. Woodcock, of Maryland, selected as enforcement director.

Moral Obligation
Mitchell declared that states, along with the federal government, have a moral obligation to enforce the 18th amendment, but he added that "There is no legal way of compelling state legislatures to enact enforcement statutes, or to compel state authorities to aid in enforcement. Just as there would be no legal way of compelling congress to enact enforcement legislation if it chose not to."

This was interpreted to mean that in the last analysis prohibition enforcement under the new regime would be governed by public opinion.

Those parts of the country which want real enforcement, and are willing to cooperate with the federal authorities, will get it, the states and cities which do not want prohibition will not have any more than they are today.

Many retained
In studying the prohibition personnel as transferred to the justice department and retained in the treasury it appeared that most of the outstanding administrators were retained in the treasury, including Samuel O. Wynne of Philadelphia, Thomas E. Stone, who once directed the rum fight at Detroit, E. C. Yelkley, who has weathered many a storm at Chicago, Maurice Campbell, who has fought against tremendous odds in New York, O. D. Jackson, of New Orleans and others.

After a battle the justice department got a highly effective enforcement expert in commander L. D. Pennington, of Pittsburgh, who goes to Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON BUREAU

Answers to questions of information and fact can be obtained by writing to Central Press Bureau, P. O. Box 126, Washington, D. C., and enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. No answers will be given to marital, medical or legal questions.

What Negro fighters have held the world's championship?
Jack Johnson held the heavyweight championship; George Dixon the bantamweight and featherweight; Joe Gans the lightweight; Joe Walcott the welterweight, and Tiger Flowers the middleweight.

How much income do the states receive from hunting licenses?
During the season of 1927-28 more than 6,450,000 hunting licenses were issued to sportsmen throughout the United States, including Alaska, and the revenue to the states amounted to more than $3,000,000. New York with 675,780 licenses, and Pennsylvania with 517,729 licenses and a revenue of $1,005,159, headed the list.

Where are the highest and lowest points in the United States?
The highest point is at the peak of Mount Whitney (Cal.), 14,956 feet above sea level. The lowest is Death Valley (Cal.), 276 feet below sea level.

Is time reckoned the same in China as in the Christian world?
Yes, the republic of China is now using the Gregorian calendar as are most western countries.

How did the phrase "going west," as applied to death, originate?
It is of great antiquity. Sophocles, in Oedipus Tyrannus, referring to a calamity involving death throughout a wide district, says: "One man after another thou mightest see speeding towards the shore of the western god."

What is the best way to estimate a person's weight without the use of scales?
The theory behind weight machine diagrams and medical charts which for years have dictated what a person should weigh according to his height, is inaccurate. Dr. Mary Louise Bollin, research worker at Teachers' college, Columbia university, reported in September, 1929, adding that a survey has shown that height is an almost negligible factor in determining weight. The only accurate method for determining weight, she discovered, is from a combination of five skeletal dimensions, shoulder width, width of hips, chest width, chest depth, and height. Chest depth was found to be the most closely related with weight, and is considered to be twice as important as any other factor.

Huston Forces Showdown On Status As Chairman Of Republican Party

By GEORGE E. DURNIO
International News Service Staff
Washington, June 23.—Claudius H. Huston has forced a showdown on the question of his status as chairman of the republican national committee.

His call for a meeting of the officers of the committee and the chairman of the senatorial and congressional campaign committees on July 7 to discuss "matters of importance concerning the forthcoming campaign," was, it was believed by observers today, a challenge to those who have been demanding his resignation.

That the challenge will be accepted is fully expected. Soon after the call for the meeting was issued, responsible leaders of the republican party here laying plans to oust Huston should he fail to retire voluntarily a week from Monday.

The strategy of the chairman, who has been under fire ever since the senate lobby committee delved into his muscle shoddy lobbying activities and his stock market manipulations, is believed to be the bold summoning of the committee officers into conference to show them he has every intention of directing the coming congressional campaign, unless President Hoover, the man who appointed him, personally asks for his resignation.

It is known that he has specific matters of party policy to lay before the July 7 meeting for "counsel and advice." Most observers anticipate he will confine himself to such matters and say nothing about his own case unless forced.

Huston gave fair warning of this attitude yesterday when he returned to Washington for the first time in weeks and paid a visit to Capitol Hill. He dropped in on senator Watson, of Indiana, the republican floor leader, to pay his respects, and then went over to discuss a specific state campaign with senator Moses, of N. H., chairman of the republican senatorial campaign committee, all in a manner to give the impression the question of his retirement had never been raised.

Had the chairman not called his meeting, a movement was afoot to assemble the executive committee of the republican national committee without recourse to him and bring matters to a head. The July 7 assembly, however, will serve the purpose as the officers of the committee are the bulk of the executive committee.

Within the next few days those who have been most insistent Huston resign for the good of the party will have completed the mapping out of their counter-strategy. Probably, it will take the form of a straight-from-the-shoulder demand he get out. In any event, there will be an interesting session a week from Monday at republican headquarters.

Three Alternatives Facing Law Enforcement Probers

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff
Washington, June 23.—Its work incomplete, President Hoover's law enforcement commission today faced three alternatives as the result of action in the Senate.

It must operate as a prohibition investigating unit solely, with limited funds become partially a private organization operating on contributions, or disband.

George Akerson, chief secretary to President Hoover, announced today that President Hoover has "received" offers from wealthy citizens to contribute funds so the commission can complete the work it originally intended. He would not reveal their identity.

This future for the commission was revealed as the result of the Senate's authorizing but a $50,000 appropriation for next year, directing, at the same time, that the commission restrict its work to prohibition enforcement inquiry.

The house voted to do away with the commission entirely.

Now, when the second deficiency bill, carrying authorization for the appropriation, goes to conference the conferees will have but two courses. They will agree on a measure continuing the commission with the $50,000 merely as a prohibition inquiry body as directed by the Senate, or adopt the House plan of doing away with the body.

The possibility of the commission's continuing its general law enforcement investigation work, however, arose when the president, informed of the Senate's action, served notice the commission would continue general work with outside financial aid.

Four Murder Cases To Be Argued Soon

Cases Of Irene Schroeder And Glenn Dague May Not Be Taken Up Until July 8

Fifteen cases have been placed on the argument list by Prothonotary R. M. Campbell, for argument court beginning on Monday, July 7th. The criminal cases include four applications for new trials. They are those of Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague, convicted of the murder of Corporal Brady Paul; Bertha Blunt, convicted of the murder of John King, and Huston Johnson, convicted of the murder of Charles McMurray.

It was originally intended that the Schroeder and Dague cases be argued on Monday, but it is now possible that they will not be taken up until Tuesday, as some of the attorneys live out of town and may not be able to get here on Monday morning. Announcement of the time when they will be taken up will be made later.

Favored Bills Are Scheduled

Congress On Matters To Be Disposed Of Before Adjournment

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff
Washington, June 23.—Republican leaders of the House today had clamped down the lid on new legislation with the result that only a half dozen major bills are now on the program for enactment before adjournment.

Included in the program, are measures so controversial that few of them are expected to pass both Senate and House unless adjournment is postponed until after July 4.

The program of action, as completed by the rules committee, includes: Border patrol bill, asked by administration, and now a part of the unfinished business. Provides for unification and enlargement of border forces to combat rum runners and smugglers.

Copyright bills, revising 21-year-old law to give authors and composers greater freedom in dividing copyright to legitimate stage producers, motion picture companies, and rewriting phonograph record copyright provisions. May pass house today.

Capper-Kelly bill, the most controversial piece of legislation before the House. Described as an anti-chain store measure. Gives manufacturers of trade-marked or standard brand articles the right to dictate retail prices to prevent price cutting.

Haugen bill requiring canners to use as much fruit as housewives use in jams, jellies and preserves or label them imitation. Fought by canners. Summers' resolution for committee to investigate advisability of changing congressional method of impeaching federal judges.

The program thus far completed makes no place for the Couzens anti-railroad merger bill as revised by the House interstate commerce committee, the Wagner unemployment bill or the Lehigh resolution to investigate the shipping board.

While the revised Couzens resolution, amending the present railroad consolidation law to temporarily prevent the Great-Northern-Northern Pacific law and restrict future operations of holding companies, may be considered, its passage is doubtful.

Since President Hoover is understood to have said he would not object to the Lehigh plan to investigate the shipping board, the inquiry may be authorized.

Although the Wagner unemployment relief program is out of committee, there is strong opposition to at least two of the three bills embraced. A measure providing for more accurate unemployment statistics is expected to pass.

Bills providing state-federal employment agencies and setting up an emergency $150,000,000 public works fund are opposed by House leaders.

Bible Conference Names Officers

Rev. George M. Landis Chosen As Vice President Of Organization At Election

The crowds are increasing at the Western Pennsylvania Bible Conference. Yesterday the attendance at the day sessions was trebled and the auditorium of the First Presbyterian church was again packed to capacity in the evening. At 10:00 a. m. Rev. A. L. Warren of Harrisburg Baptist church gave a deeply spiritual message on "The Mysteries of God." At 2:30 p. m. Rev. Hiram H. Van Cleave delivered an unusually helpful study on "Four Portraits of Christ," setting forth the distinctive way in which Christ is presented in each of the four gospels. At 3:30 p. m. Dr. Lee W. Ames of the Extension Department of the Moody Bible Institute, delivered a greatly appreciated message on "From Jerusalem to Rome," and at 7:30 he gave an eloquent address on "The Mistakes of Moses."

Dr. Ames will speak this evening on the subject, "Why the Devil Hates Deuteronomy." Sunday morning he will fill the pulpit of the Conference church, Rev. H. C. McClure pastor. At 2:30 Sunday afternoon, Geo. M. Landis of the First Baptist church of this city, will give an exposition of the second chapter of Ephesians, on the subject, "Grace—Grace—Grace." At 3:30 p. m. Dr. Ames will speak on "The Advent of the Son of God—Just as the Clock Struck." From 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. the Slippery Rock band will hold a sacred concert on the beautiful lawn surrounding the conference church. The closing message of the conference will be given by Rev. Bert E. Williams of Ellwood City, who will speak on "Contending for the Faith Once Delivered."

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Conference, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Rev. Hiram H. Van Cleave of Grove City, vice president, Rev. Geo. M. Landis of New Castle; secretary-treasurer, Rev. Chas. C. Mohney of Oil City.

Water Too Cold At Scout Camp For Morning Swim

(Special To The News)
CAMP JOHN M. PHILLIPS, Friday, June 27.—The program of activities was unusually full Friday with fun aplenty for all of the scouts who have been in camp for the first period. The morning swim was unanimously voted down by the boys due to the cold wind which prevailed. However many of the boys enjoyed the dip before breakfast and none were counted absent in the afternoon. Indians from the village, Bill Offutt, Jack Ziegler and T. L. May did a marathon to the football camp at Muddy Creek Falls in record time early in the morning to deliver a message.

Many tests were passed by the boys during instruction period. Bob Lee and Dick Long completed the knife and axe and the compass requirements for second class. Dick Wallace passed all of the tenderfoot test requirements. Lawrence Bennett, safety rules. Second class signmaking. Reed McCaskey; observation test. Dick Hamilton, and Reed McCaskey. Merit badges; Bill Offutt—Pathfinding; Bill Leitch—Firemanship; Tom Rambo—Civics. An impromptu but highly enjoyable game of mousball was organized by Leaders Hancher and Christman to take the place of the morning swim.

A program of hikes to points of interest near the camp occupied the boys during the afternoon. Assistant Director Harry Ziegler and camp clerk J. Hancher took one group of boys to picturesque Muddy Creek Falls. Another group in charge of Leader Mac Leslie paid a visit to the Game Farm. Herb Christman took a party of nine boys for a fishing trip which furnished a keen lot of fun but very few fish. Scouts Bennett and Montgomery journeyed to Taggart Field in the evening to take part in the program preceding the mousball game. The Benjamin Franklin Tumbling team which also took part in the big event are camp guests today of Leroy M. Norton.

The Kit Carson stockade under leader Earl Timblin took inspection honors today with a high score. Boys in the hut are Bud McGaffie, Bill Powell, Rus Gustafson, Bob Moore and Bill Shira. Jack Ziegler a member of the tribe of Wakichonze in the Indian village took high honors today with a score of 115 points.

The most neatly uniformed scouts in parade formation at retreat were chosen as color guards. This evening these boys were L. Bennett, Edwin McCreary, Dick Long and Bill Shira. Cub honor scalps were awarded to Jerry Johnston, Bill McGlincey and Gerald Wright by camp director Norton at color ceremony.

Evening games were followed by a snappy campfire program in the big woods. An increased registration for the second scout week is expected on Monday. Scouts who wish to have boxes or bedding taken to camp must have same at scout headquarters or in front of Greer building at 10:30 Monday morning.

Officers Save Negro From Mob

(International News Service)
BEAUMONT, Tex., June 28.—Saved from a mob which attempted to seize and lynch him, Rainey Williams, 38-year-old negro, today repored in the county jail here after a wild race from Port Arthur with the crowd in close pursuit. Williams had confessed to criminal attacks on eight white women. The mob, gathered in front of the Port Arthur city hall, almost succeeded in taking the negro from deputy sheriffs who had him in custody. Several shots were fired and tear gas was used to quell the disturbance, allowing officers to hustle the prisoner out of town in a rumble seat of a fire department automobile.

Driver Asserts Liquor Is Thrown Into Automobile

BUTLER, Pa., June 28.—"I don't know where it came from," pleaded John W. Moore of Karns City when arraigned before Alderman E. P. Pfeffer this morning to answer to a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

"I was driving along toward Ivywood and had just passed a filling station, when someone threw a quart of liquor into my machine," he told the "judge."

The alderman was curious. "Well," he asked the defendant, "didn't you see the man?"

"No," Moore replied. Moore said he was on his way to Crawford county in quest of work, and was taking his mother along, when he got into trouble and was arrested by Corp. J. S. Kennedy, of the local highway patrol unit, and charged with driving while intoxicated. He is a blacksmith by trade, but of late had been working on a farm. The defendant pleaded guilty, and was remanded to the county jail in default of bail.

Ensign Thomsen To Speak Sunday At Youngstown, O.

Ensign V. Thomsen in charge of the Salvation Army here has been invited to speak at the Men's Social Institution located at Youngstown, Sunday morning. This institution takes care of the "down and outer" for whom religious services are held every Sunday morning, during the week these men bail paper, fix furniture, and sort rags which is donated and gathered up by the trucks calling at residences. It is said that thousands of acres of forestry are preserved annually by the Salvation Army in this way.

An open air service will also be conducted on the diamond this evening and tomorrow night there will be a meeting in the hall on W. Washington street at 8 o'clock.

Major Smith Talks To Australian Home By Radio Hook-up

(International News Service)
SCHENECTADY, N. Y., June 28.—Sending greetings to his native country, Major Charles Kingsford-Smith talked to his mother, other relatives and friends today by radio. His talk was made over the short wave station of the General Electric Company and rebroadcast over a National Broadcasting Company hookup over the United States.

The Australian described his thrilling battle against fog and storms which was won when his plane, the Southern Cross, spanned the Atlantic from Ireland and landed at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, later coming on to New York.

The major told his mother he expected to return to Australia in August.

William Boyce Thompson Expires After Week's Attack Of Pneumonia

(International News Service)
YONKERS, N. Y., June 28.—William Boyce Thompson, copper operator, and philanthropist, died early today at his home, The Alders, after a week's attack of pneumonia.

He was 61 years old. Colonel Thompson, whose fortune was estimated at $150,000,000, suffered a paralytic stroke four years ago and since that time he had travelled widely seeking to regain his health. He also spent considerable time in an institute he founded for the study of plants. He owned copper mines in Arizona and other states as well as in Mexico. He also had acquired large diamond tracts in South America.

He is survived by his wife Mrs. Gertrude Hickman Thompson and a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Schulz, who were at his bedside when he died. A brother, J. Edward Thompson, is on his way here from Phoenix, Ariz., and a sister, Mrs. Walter Filor, also survives.

Colonel Thompson carried out extensive benevolences and at one time gave $1,000,000 to Phillips Exeter Academy, where he was educated. He also made large contributions to the Republican party.

His fortune was founded on copper mines acquired by his father in Montana. He was a member of many leading New York clubs, a director of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company and held the degree of LL.D. from the University of Pittsburgh and the University of Kentucky and the degree of Doctor of Science from the University of Arizona.

He was commissioned a lieutenant colonel when appointed by President Wilson to lead the Red Cross mission to Russia.

Credit Is Faith In Humanity

Credit—derived from the Latin credo; I believe—is based on faith—faith in people—faith in their character and determination to do, as Emerson says, "pay every debt as if God wrote the bill!"

And he who justifies that faith, who pays his bills according to terms and promises, builds a credit record that is priceless.

Credit never abused, is never refused.

Prayer In Congress

The house met at 12 o'clock noon. The chaplain, Rev. James Shera Montgomery, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Father of mercies, again Thou hast drawn the curtain of night and shown us the radiance and beauty of Thy handiwork; Thy infinite presence underlies all. We humble ourselves before Thee, yet we approach Thee with filial trust and confidence. Blessed Lord God, be with us, for the words we speak and the things we do may seem to be lost, but are not. Direct us and lead us to do something for others—to love the unloving, to extend the hand to the forbidding, to plan and win the cause that is just, to will that our light may shine, and, above all, to add strength of character and acceptable conduct to our daily living. In the name of Christ our Saviour. Amen.

Peter's Adventures

GOBELIN GETS MOSQUITO

Peter's Warning proved quite as useless as had Brown Beetle's. Both had come too late, for the Little Mosquito could not help himself. Brave-ly he struggled in the water, but two long, grasping hands appeared beneath him and slowly dragged him beneath the ripples. For a moment, too horrified to speak, Peter watched the spot where the little Mosquito had disappeared. Then the ripples widened. Up rose the long hands that had dragged poor Mosquito under, and Peter discovered they were not hands at all, but teeth, long and sharp. And these teeth belonged to the ugliest head he had ever seen. A great big head it was that now rose to the surface, a head with eyes that glittered like the eyes of an angry pool parrot. On the top of the ugly head was a pair of antennae that curved down over the funny face and from a distance, looked much like horns.

"Isn't he a frightful fellow?" stammered Brown Beetle, and Peter, glancing down saw that his companion was actually shaking with fright. "Of course I am not trembling from fear to myself, but the very sight of that hobgoblin makes me fearful of what he will do to my friends. That's one fellow I run away from if I catch sight of him first. Once one of my young sisters dropped to the bottom of the pool, and met him face to face—in fact she fell in front of his nose. And my poor little sister was so alarmed that she sprang away from him, but alas, sprang right into the wide open mouth of a Frog."

"He is nobody one would wish to meet in the dark," agreed the boy who was not sorry he was on the shore instead of in the pool.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

A hard headed man is about the worst luck than can befall a woman.

One of them who calls himself "A Lone Wolf" and boasts that he has no friends of either sex, wonders why he lost his girl. I don't believe I will ever change my mind. I've always been called a Lone Wolf and I believe I'll always be one.

Try and budge him! Just try! He is answering "Miss Twenty One" who said that men are conceited and don't try to understand women. He went with a girl for four years and "gave her everything she wanted."

A Lone Wolf who boasts that he hasn't any friends of either sex, is pretty conceited to say he gave a woman everything she wanted. Women who are young want company. They need friends. They want to see more than one face in four years.

Lone Wolf, you better take inventory and see if you aren't shutting yourself out from the world and asking a woman to enter your own private little monastery, denying herself the sight of others to look only up to you.

You say you gave her your car for months so she wouldn't have to walk a half a mile, while you walked six miles a day after working 18 to 23 hours. And then you worked on the car all night.

Isn't you exaggerating a little bit? Count those hours again! How long was "all night?"

This woman took a vacation and you let her have the car. You couldn't take one. You asked her for three days of her vacation and she was so tired from her trip that she could hardly stand up.

Now listen here Lone Wolf, if you work yourself to death for a woman and demand nothing at all, that's what you will get, nine times out of ten. She'd have more respect for you if you wouldn't make a slave of yourself. Women love men who are up-standing.

So you have broken off and while she lives a mile away she doesn't see you! You think you got a raw deal. I'll tell you what's the matter with you, you are ingrowing. Those days that you worked to give her things, seemed longer every time you think of them. It wasn't any fun for you. If you worked less and played more probably you could still win the girl.

It's all right to be good to a woman but you don't have to go to such extremes. You don't understand what being good means. Take her out, let her see others, see them yourself, be cheerful and don't slave night and day. You will never get any happiness playing "Lone Wolf." That isn't the way God expected us to live.

If I'm wrong, write me. Care Premier Syndicate Inc., 235 East 45th street, New York City.

John Paul Jones
His Burlesque Fight With The "Milford"

IN THE FALL OF 1776, JOHN PAUL JONES, IN THE CONTINENTAL SLOOP-OF-WAR "PROVIDENCE," WAS IN CANADIAN WATERS SEEKING TO WAY-LAY ENEMY SUPPLY SHIPS, WHEN HE SUDDENLY ENCOUNTERED THE BRITISH FRIGATE "MILFORD."

NOTE: THE "PROVIDENCE" FLIES THE "JACK AND STRIPES," THE AMERICAN FLAG - 1776-1777 -

JONES SOON FOUND HE COULD EASILY OUTSAIL THE "MILFORD" AND BEGAN TO TANTALIZE THE ENGLISHMAN. HE WOULD HEAVE-TO UNTIL THE "MILFORD" CAME NEARLY WITHIN GUNSHOT AND THEN QUICKLY DART AWAY.

TRYING VAINLY TO CATCH THE AMERICAN, THE FRIGATE FIRED BROADSIDE AFTER BROADSIDE, ALL OF WHICH FELL FAR SHORT OF THEIR MARK. ALL DAY LONG JONES KEPT UP THIS GAME, MAKING THE "MILFORD" WASTE POWDER AND SHOT.

TO RIDICULE HIS ADVERSARY AND SAVE HIS OWN AMMUNITION, JONES HAD ONE OF HIS MARINES REPLY TO EACH OF THE "MILFORD'S" FUTILE BROADSIDES WITH A SINGLE MUSKET-SHOT. AT DUSK, JONES SAILED AWAY, SOON LEAVING HIS CHAGRINED FOE FAR ASTERN.

Belanger To Meet Tobias Monday Night

Topnotch Flyweight Bout
Attracts Attention Of Fans Here

EXPECT BIG CROWD
TO WITNESS EVENT

Fight fans are looking forward to Monday night when Phil Tobias of Brooklyn and Frenchy Belanger of Toronto, Ont., flyweights, clash in a bout scheduled to go 10 rounds at the Jolly bowl. Both are terrific punchers and indications are that the scrap may end in a knockout.

Belanger and Tobias have met every topnotch flyweight in the world but have not yet faced each other in the ring and when the bell rings they will step and punch in a classic that would be good enough for Madison Square Garden or any other big city in the world.

Belanger has scored knockdowns over the popular Willie Davies, the former champion Frankie Genaro, likewise Tzy Schwartz and other leading flyweights. Tobias sent Ernie Peters down here several times and owing to his ruggedness and ability to swap claims he was kept out of the New York eliminations.

Trained to Minute.
According to advance reports received here they are trained to the minute and fit for a gruelling contest. Both know that a defeat will not only mean a loss of prestige but a big financial setback and for this reason they will come here early tomorrow, train at Dime's and keep ready for the important scrap.

On paper it looks like one of the best fights that could have been arranged for the fans and indications are that thousands will attend the battle which is no ordinary affair. Play Jack Brown of Toronto, internationally known, will second Belanger and Bob Levy, also known the world over, will care for Tobias.

The semi-final will be fought by Bud Ciccone, Greensburg, and Pete Franetto of Cleveland, welterweights. They are shrewd. The only other two bouts will be staged by Jack Evans, Cleveland, vs Nick Adamo and Billy Mido vs Joe Mucci, both of this city.

The bout will be in charge of a deputy from the commission office and it may come to pass that on account of its importance, the commissioner, Hovey Boyle, may attend the event which will start at 9 p. m. last time.

To Meet In Finals Of College Tourney

(International News Service)

OAKMONT, Pa., June 28.—George T. Dunlap Jr., Princeton, and Lawrence Moller, Notre Dame, will meet today in the final of the intercollegiate golf tourney. Dunlap took his semi-final match from Winston Fuller, Southern California, eight up and even to play. Moller was forced to play 37 holes to defeat Phillips Finlay, Harvard one up.

In some quarters the Princeton was favored to win today because of his brilliant attacks in his hectic battle with the Californian. Several times he was in serious trouble, but rallied in dazzling fashion.

Moller, who has shown brilliant playing throughout the tournament, was not the favorite when he started out yesterday morning with Finlay. At the end of the first 18 holes the Notre Dame player was even with his opponent and not a few of the gallery shifted from Finlay to Moller. Dunlap had an easier time winning his game. At no time was his lead seriously threatened by Fuller.

Pirates Trim Phils 6 To 4

Good Fielding, Timely Hitting And "Breaks" Give Pirates Victory

PITTSBURGH, June 28.—The Pirates chalked up their third victory over the Phillies, 6 to 4, at Forbes Field yesterday. Meinie pitched for Pittsburgh and was hit safely 12 times but good fielding, timely hitting and a few breaks gave the Pirates the game. Of the 12 hits that the Phils got O'Doul landed four of them. Elliott relieved Willoughby of the Phils in the sixth. The box score:

Schmeling Departs For Home In Germany

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports

NEW YORK, June 28.—Max Schmeling, the Herr prize fighter, left the land of the free at midnight last night on the Bremen, bound for Europe and the heavyweight championship of the world went with him. He is coming back before the end of the summer, they say, but whether the title was coming with him remained a moot point, although the Herr Schmeling was at some pains to file a denunciation against a current innuendo. This purported to believe that he thus was taking plenty of prairie, which translated from the vulgarian, means a run out.

The Herr Schmeling disagreed with this version. He did more. He said that if there was no prize fight with Sharkey in September it wouldn't be because he was unwilling to fight. He, it seems, wants to do a lot of things for the land of the free. Free? He didn't disagree with that version. It even gave him the heavyweight championship for nothing.

"I make only one promise to the American public," said he just before sailing. "The promise I make is that another fight with Sharkey will be in September, if the public and Sharkey are willing. I do nothing to interfere with that plan. I do everything I can to bring it about. But I must be protected against trouble and, until the promoters give me assurance of this, the fight can't go on. I hope Manager Jacobs will be able to straighten this matter out while I am home, so that I can come back ready to fight. My victory was questioned because of Sharkey's foul. That is as it should be. I want America to know that I am not any more satisfied with this than it is."

Meantime, it appears that the second Sharkey-Schmeling fight is no nearer fulfillment than it was the morning after the original meeting, at which time it was further away than a wild pitch. Schmeling and his manager, the Herr Jake, who mastered his German in ten simple lessons at the corner delicatessen, accepted Sharkey's deft for another fight but exacted several conditions, none of which have been met.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Stock Market Is Dull And Featureless Today

By W. S. COUSINS

International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, June 28.—Stock prices were irregular at the beginning of an extremely dull and featureless week-end market. The bears renewed their attacks on a few of the rails and utilities with Southern Railway again the target in the rail group. This stock was forced down 3 points to a new low at 89 1/2, while New Haven, New York Central and other rail leaders dipped from 1 to 2 1/2.

The week-end business and trade reviews offered little by way of encouragement for the immediate future, emphasizing the fact that the mid-summer dull season is now approaching. Building construction figures for the first three weeks of June showed a fairly good pick-up at the population centers and commodity prices were inclined a share higher. Only 154,000 shares of stock changed hands in the first half-hour, this being the dull opening period in nearly a month.

The ticker stood still during the greater part of the second half-hour and the market was as dull as the usual mid-summer session. Stocks which were under pressure in the first period staged a moderate come-back, and the market firmed up as the half-session advanced.

Union Label League Initiates Class

Interesting Session Is Held In The Trades And Labor Assembly Hall

At the regular meeting of the Women's Union Label League, Local 456, held this week in the Trades and Labor Assembly Hall, a class of eighteen candidates was initiated.

Eleven more new names were received at this meeting and those whose names were submitted will be initiated in the near future.

A visiting team of guards from Youngstown Label League No. 95 initiated the class in a most fitting manner. A number of visitors were also present.

Third International Vice-President Sister Emma Augustine was present and at the Good of the Order delivered an excellent address, which was most encouraging as well as instructive to the new members.

Sister Elizabeth Day, organizer of the New Castle Local, also spoke. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed. The next meeting of the League will be held on July 8 at 7:30 o'clock.

Planning Flight Across To Russia Without Stop

(International News Service)

OLD ORCHARD BEACH, Me., June 28.—Captain Lewis A. Yancey, who spanned the trackless expanses of the Atlantic ocean as navigator of the airplane Pathfinder on his flight to Rome, is planning to attempt a non-stop flight to Moscow, Russia, in July, it was learned today.

Yancey is now on a goodwill air tour of South America, accompanied by Emil Burgin and Zeh Bouek They are in Buenos Aires.

Utmost secrecy shrouded Yancey's plans for his flight to Moscow and the plane he would use.

The proposed flight is the most ambitious on record. It was believed at Bellanca monoplane similar to the Pathfinder and the ill-fated Green Flash, had been secretly purchased in New York and was being groomed for the long hop.

Disorderly House Raided By Police

City and county officers early this morning raided the alleged disorderly house of Amelia Howard, 20 1-2 East Long avenue, arresting the proprietress and five visitors. The proprietress put a forfeit of $15 for her appearance this morning and four of the visitors put up ten dollars each for their appearance. They failed to return and their money was declared forfeited. The fifth visitor was given a hearing and fined $10.

The United Kingdom imported $125,000 worth of American artificial limbs, crutches and other surgical appliances last year.

Charge Two With House Robbery

Man With Crutch Is Trained And Arrests Made As Result

As a result of an investigation made Thursday by County Detective H. Martin Lee and Constable A. S. Leslie at the Cameron Home on the Cogrove farm in Big Beaver township, near Wampum, George Ritchie and Joe Miller of the Wampum district, have been held by Squire James Glover of Wampum, for the September term of court on charges of breaking and entering and larceny. In default of bail, both men are sojourning in the county jail pending the disposition of their case.

The officers were called to the scene by Willis Houk, administrator of the Cameron estate, because of the fact that it had been discovered that the house, in which was stored the property of the estate, had been the scene of a robbery.

On investigation, the officers found evidence that there had been a man in the party who had used a crutch. Further inquiry developed the fact that George Ritchie and Joe Miller had been hunting ground hogs in the vicinity and that Ritchie uses a crutch.

A few deductions by the officers finally resulted in the arrest of Ritchie and Miller, who were taken before Squire Glover and held for court. Among the things taken were a large copper kettle, two large crocks, a family album and other articles.

You're the JUDGE

The Decision

Smith was found guilty. The judges reasoned thus: When Smith grabbed Bill by the shoulder and threw him to one side, he committed a battery upon Bill, and himself became the assailant. His interference then was not merely to preserve the peace as the law permits, but was an attack in itself, especially so since he carried the knife.

YOUTH DIES OF BLOW FROM BAT

Pittsburgh Park Superintendent Alleged To Have Struck Youth During Argument

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 28.—Joseph Neiberding, 16, died today in Presbyterian hospital of a fractured skull as the result of a blow from a baseball bat wielded by William Hartlep, supervisor of Northside Parks.

Hartlep told police he struck the boy when he feared the lad and his companions were about to attack him for ordering them not to play ball on the public playground. The youth's father, on the other hand, alleged that the supervisor struck young Neiberding when the boy stooped over to pick up a baseball glove.

Hartlep was to be questioned further by homicide detectives before being turned over to the custody of the corner.

U. S. IDEAS IN AUSTRALIA

Latest American ideas and equipment have been used in the $250,000 addition to a leading chain of variety stores in Australia. The innovations were adopted after the architect had toured the United States in quest of ideas. The cafeteria, seating 1,000, is American-equipped, even to the facing of the building with rose-pink, white and blue terra cotta, and the interior with tile and marble in modernistic color arrangements—a radical change in conservative Australia.

Manchester Funeral Monday Afternoon

Merger Trial Has Been Postponed Until July 8

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 28.—A pall of gloom hung over Youngstown today as the city mourned the tragic end of Leroy A. Manchester, chief of Youngstown Sheet and Tube legal staff, who killed himself in his office here yesterday while his presence was being awaited by common pleas court for the resumption of trial of a suit attacking the merger of Sheet and Tube with Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

Hearing of the suit, over which Manchester had worked his mind and nerves to the breaking point, was abruptly adjourned as a result of the tragedy until July 8.

Funeral services for Manchester will be held Monday afternoon at his home in Newport drive. Burial will be private. Out of deference to the attorney who was highly respected and widely-known in the Mahoning Valley, the Mahoning county courthouse and City Hall will be closed.

Condolences from masters of the steel industry, from attorneys and from the city at large were laid at the door of the Manchester home today.

The officers were called to the scene by Willis Houk, administrator of the Cameron estate, because of the fact that it had been discovered that the house, in which was stored the property of the estate, had been the scene of a robbery.

On investigation, the officers found evidence that there had been a man in the party who had used a crutch. Further inquiry developed the fact that George Ritchie and Joe Miller had been hunting ground hogs in the vicinity and that Ritchie uses a crutch.

A few deductions by the officers finally resulted in the arrest of Ritchie and Miller, who were taken before Squire Glover and held for court. Among the things taken were a large copper kettle, two large crocks, a family album and other articles.

You're the JUDGE

The Decision

Smith was found guilty. The judges reasoned thus: When Smith grabbed Bill by the shoulder and threw him to one side, he committed a battery upon Bill, and himself became the assailant. His interference then was not merely to preserve the peace as the law permits, but was an attack in itself, especially so since he carried the knife.

VACATION PERIOD

Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian of the New Castle free public library, will take a two weeks vacation, beginning Monday. Miss Joyce will spend a part of the time at her home in Pittsburgh.

YOUTH DIES OF BLOW FROM BAT

Pittsburgh Park Superintendent Alleged To Have Struck Youth During Argument

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 28.—Joseph Neiberding, 16, died today in Presbyterian hospital of a fractured skull as the result of a blow from a baseball bat wielded by William Hartlep, supervisor of Northside Parks.

Hartlep told police he struck the boy when he feared the lad and his companions were about to attack him for ordering them not to play ball on the public playground. The youth's father, on the other hand, alleged that the supervisor struck young Neiberding when the boy stooped over to pick up a baseball glove.

Hartlep was to be questioned further by homicide detectives before being turned over to the custody of the corner.

U. S. IDEAS IN AUSTRALIA

Latest American ideas and equipment have been used in the $250,000 addition to a leading chain of variety stores in Australia. The innovations were adopted after the architect had toured the United States in quest of ideas. The cafeteria, seating 1,000, is American-equipped, even to the facing of the building with rose-pink, white and blue terra cotta, and the interior with tile and marble in modernistic color arrangements—a radical change in conservative Australia.

Manchester Funeral Monday Afternoon

Merger Trial Has Been Postponed Until July 8

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 28.—A pall of gloom hung over Youngstown today as the city mourned the tragic end of Leroy A. Manchester, chief of Youngstown Sheet and Tube legal staff, who killed himself in his office here yesterday while his presence was being awaited by common pleas court for the resumption of trial of a suit attacking the merger of Sheet and Tube with Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

Hearing of the suit, over which Manchester had worked his mind and nerves to the breaking point, was abruptly adjourned as a result of the tragedy until July 8.

Funeral services for Manchester will be held Monday afternoon at his home in Newport drive. Burial will be private. Out of deference to the attorney who was highly respected and widely-known in the Mahoning Valley, the Mahoning county courthouse and City Hall will be closed.

Condolences from masters of the steel industry, from attorneys and from the city at large were laid at the door of the Manchester home today.

Padlock Use To Be Extended In Enforcing Law

Department Of Justice Announces Plan To Enforce Dry Laws

ENFORCEMENT AGENTS GET NEW INSTRUCTIONS

By ROBERT S. THORNBURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 28.—Wide use of the padlock injunction to close properties which house speakeasies and moonshine establishments was planned by the Department of Justice today as it prepared to assume the responsibility of enforcing the prohibition law.

Especially in the large cities have property owners obtained exorbitant rents for buildings used for illegal purposes, according to officials. The department felt that an expansion of the padlock system would be the most effective means of meeting the problem. This method, it was explained, will make property owners more careful as to their tenants.

While no official statement has been forthcoming it was the opinion that Attorney General Mitchell would order his subordinates to eliminate sensationalism from enforcement as far as possible.

While the government has no hope of accomplishing the impossible—that is driving prohibition off the front pages—an effort probably will be made in that direction.

Col. Amos W. W. Woodcock, the new director of prohibition, probably will give definite instructions to the dry forces that firearms shall be used only in emergency cases. Prohibition killings—assaults by the wets as "shot-gun enforcement"—has caused the treasury more trouble and annoyance in the last two years than any feature of administering the law.

There were more fatal shootings by customs and coast guard agents than in the prohibition bureau proper the records show. However, the department of justice is anxious to avoid this criticism of enforcement. In enforcing the national prohibition act agents in the department of justice will get specific instructions to remain strictly within the law themselves. This would apply to such matters as proper obtaining and use of search warrants, avoidance of raids without warrants, and other details of that character.

Attorney General Mitchell plans to continue the treasury policy, emphasizing particularly when Brig. Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews became assistant secretary and reorganized the prohibition machine, of directing activities against big sources of supply, such as distilling on a large scale and smuggling. Mitchell's statement relative to state and municipal cooperation indicated that the "little fellows" would be left largely to the local authorities.

Details of the transfer of the bureau from the treasury to the justice department, to be effective Monday were being completed today and officials said the change would be made without "interruption of business."

Constable Freed On Liquor Charge

Case Against Mercer County Officer Is Nolle Prossed After Investigation

MERCER, June 28.—The liquor charge against Constable C. W. Brannon of Pine township was nolle prossed today by the district attorney's office following a thorough investigation of the charge of buying liquor from Brannon preferred by Paul Moon now serving four months in jail for an alleged buy of 6 pints. When arrested, Moon, who is from the same locality, told Squire O. E. Irwin, of Grove City and Chief Chas. Ray that he made his own liquor. Later when arraigned in court he told Judge J. A. McLaughlin that he had bought it from Brannon who on being arrested was able to prove an alibi for the time that Moon said he was with him. Later investigation at the home of Moon has proven that he did make the stuff. It is now thought that Moon thinking that he might be released concocted the story.

FACES TWO CHARGES
J. W. Cameron of Wolfcreek township was arraigned in No. 2 court room Thursday afternoon charged with the dual offense of assault and battery and larceny. The case is still in hearing.

W. J. Woodside entered plea to failing to make return on sale of gasoline to state.

The action of possessing and transporting liquor against Helen Ruth Wildman, a Mercer girl has been continued to the October term.

VISIT CRIME SCENE
The jury on the murder case of Joe Harnett visited the scene of the crime at Sharon last evening.

TO COMPLETE BRIDGE
The bridge over Wolfcreek at Grove City now being erected by the Roberts Supply Company of Canton, O., will be finished by fall is the announcement of County Engineer F. P. Graham of Grove City here today.

The bridge has been in building since last fall. It is the largest ever erected in the county, and has over all dimensions of 419 feet including the approaches on each end.

Repair of the Budd avenue viaduct bridge in Sharon is progressing states Mr. Graham who says that the county is fast getting into good shape on improved bridges.

On the state highways in the county the bridges are in the best condition they have ever been. Many of them are new structures. There are two jobs yet to complete before the end of the autumn of the bridge at Sheakleyville and the erection of a 25 foot span bridge in Pymatuning township.

MERCHANTS PAY TAX
Of the 2200 taxable merchants in the county to date 868 have made payment of their mercantile tax which is listed against them by appraiser Ray McElheney, of Fredonia. The tax is payable any time after May 1st and must be paid in full before September 1st.

RASPBERRIES SCARCE
So far the black-raspberry crop has failed to develop in the local markets. There was just one real week of strawberry sales.

The dry weather is said to account for the condition.

ESCAPE CONVICTION
Out of five liquor cases tried up to Thursday, but one conviction is recorded.

Whether the jury panel of this term is made up of Scotchmen or not is an open question but the fact remains that the four first verdicts referred to were of the variety known as a Scotch verdict. This return is one of "Not Guilty but Pay Costs."

It is alleged by the police that two of the big bootleggers in the county escaped by this route.

SEVEN ENTER PLEAS
Sheriff Don Callahan turned in 7 pleas of guilty at the office of the district attorney in one batch this week. The sheriff is always after signatures on the dotted line and is responsible for the securing of pleas from the greater portion of his charges.

When the fact that several months sentence may be expected out off the time that is sure to be handed out with the prospect of staying in a hot jail that much longer if trial is demanded the major portion of the defendants wilt.

COCHRAN TO RETURN
Hon. T. C. Cochran is expected home for the remainder of the summer at the end of this week is the announcement of his family. The family arrived home from Washington last week. Mr. Cochran was forced to return to vote on the soldier relief bill now before the house.

ROAMING With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

It seems rather odd, but folks will sit through a football game, come snow, come rain, or come seven. The only thing the weather will do is push their coat collars up around their ears a little farther and perhaps start the chorus of feet pounding. But let it sprinkle a bit at a baseball or a mushball game and zowie, the crowd melts like an Eskimo pie.

Same folks, same stadium, but not the same germ. That's the reason why the benefit mushball game broke up last night after five innings had been played. Old man Pluvius took his place in the lineup and there wasn't room for anybody else.

However, the evening was well worth the admission price and the cash customers had a good time. They wanted to see Hans Wagner play ball and they did. Saw the old boy spear a line drive with one hand, saw him hit into a double play, saw him steal a base through some tricky running and heard him make a little speech.

It was just as well that the game ended in an eight-eight tie for it leaves some reason for a return game next year. And from the conversation of the crowd following last night's game, the crowd will be a lot larger.

Had the luck to run out of gas up on DuShane Street after the game and if Wes Davy hadn't come along in his brand new car, I might still have been there. The lad parked next to me had more trouble. One of his tires got tired and ran out of air.

The high school reunion and dinner in Cascade Park drew a lot of veteran feeders last night. Big outstanding appetites that needed plenty of attention and got it. A lot of elegant potato salad met its end last night, with an attendant casualty list in baked beans and ham and other trinkets.

The mushball game was the reason a lot of us didn't get to the reunion dance. Can't be two places at once. The uniforms in the game showed a lot of ideas. Hub started like a picture of Walter Hagen with a front porch. Hub was dressed in golf clothes. Mick McBride had on his street clothes and a uniform shirt, while Walt Krohn had some kind of a peaked cap on that made him look like Earl Sande.

The junior high school youngsters who put on the tumbling exhibition were clever ticks. Rolled around on the mat as though they had no bones at all. Rudy Tice said there was a day when he did that sort of thing, but that day was gone forever.

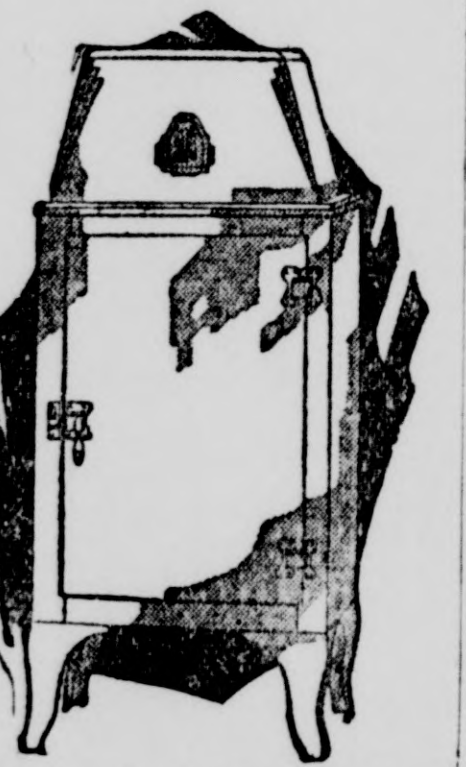

The Boy Scouts held an Indian war dance, with plenty of feathers and whoops. And of course the Senior High School band was on hand. They filled the stems for dear old Maine, played the Stars and Stripes forever and altogether did themselves proud.

One of the daddies of baseball in Lawrence County tossed out the first ball, Ed Bigley. Back in 1876 when part of a ball player's uniform was a mustache, Mr. Bigley played with the old Neshannocks, and customers there was a team. There were no eighty five thousand dollar salaries then, no half a dozen pitchers for a team. The equipment was scant and the going was rough and to have survived this long from those strenuous days is something.

Another old Neshannock player, Robert H. Whaley couldn't get to the game. He and Mr. Bigley are about all that is left of the old Neshannocks now.

Coastguard Tows Disabled Vessel Into Maine Port

Liner With 350 Passengers Aboard Has Propeller Broken By Submerged Log

(International News Service)

BOSTON, June 28.—Two coastguard cutters, dispatched to the aid of the Steamship Governor Dingley, crippled off Michiasport, Me., by getting her propeller tangled with a floating log or submerged rock, were taking the coastwise liner in tow for Eastport, Me., today to land her 360 passengers.

A radiogram sent by Captain John V. Ingalls, of the Governor Dingley, to Andrew B. Sides, vice president of the Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc., said:

"Kickapoo due alongside at 11:30. Ossipee at 4. Moderate southwest winds. Small swell. Clear. Everything okay. Rudder intact. Far as can see wheel gone. Taking no water. No damage. If any to hull."

A previous message told of the despatch of an ocean-going towing tug from St. Johns, New Brunswick.
